

Interview Handson

Build a theatre sit booking system (just frontend), here is a general description:

When clicking a dot it becomes reserved, and a popup appear to book the sit, if user clicks the BOOK button dot becomes red, if user takes no action for 10 seconds, popup closes and sit becomes available again.

Other users should see which sits are available (use local storage)

- Prepare to support various types of theatres (you can either use a matrix or a list of x,y sit objects)
- Support sits with different prices
- Support selecting an area with the mouse
